Drive For Cantonment Business Starts

Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

The quarrel the people of the United States have had with Russia, is not her system of government, or way of life. The antipathy amounting at times to hatred, is due to the proselyting done by the Third International in this country, proselyting by such scurvy scoundrels as Jan Valtin (Krebs) and Harry Bridges. We abstained from sending missionaries to Russia to convert them to democracy. All we have asked is that Russia keep their dirty money and their filthy fifth columnists out of our country.

Now it appears that however much Americans may despise the Russian system of government with its mass murder, bloody purges, and criminal dictatorship that results in universal poverty, knowing nothing better, they are willing to die for that system. Men, women and children are stoically giving up their lives in a battle with Hitler's mechanized hordes. We cannot know now whether this is voluntary immolation or whether the political commissars in each company and regiment of the Russians offer them Hobson's choice, the certain firing squad or the chance of escaping annihilation at the hands of the Germans. We can only guess, and our guess would be that both patriotism and the threat of the firing squad are factors in the stiff resistance the Russians are giving the invaders.

So, as both President Roosevelt and Premier Churchill have declared, it is to our interest ,our vital interest, to do everything we can to help the Russians stop Hitler. This policy on the part of our government belongs to the very A B C of commonsense. When Senator Johnson rises in the Senate and deplores our assistance to the Russians on the ground that they are communists, hated and adjured, as communism is in this country, he is merely resorting to old shibboleths and appealing to prejudices that should have nothing to do with the national policy at this time of emergency. It is the urgent business of every free nation to stop Hitler by any means available. At the moment aiding the Russians in their slowly losing battle is one way of wearing down the German armies. As a practical people faced with a long war of vast extent in event Hitler is not stopped, we would be extremely foolish to let this opportunity pass, or to count the cost.

The gnawing and burrowing of communists forces in this country we can deal with adequately when the majority makes up its mind to do so. We note that our isolationists are vastly disturbed that Russian and English armies have entered Iran against the Iran dictator's protest. These vociferous opponents of our foreign policy would prefer that Hitler's opponents had not taken a leaf out of Hitler's book, but had rather left the dirty deed for Hitler to do, as he very surely would do, given the opportunity. We can be very sure that after the war, Iran will be properly compensated and her sovereignty restored by the present invaders, while Hitler has already proved repeatedly that he strips his victims clean and restores nothing. It would have been a major calamity, had Britain and Russian waited and hesitated hoping that the principles and ideals of the dream world of yesterday would govern in the present desperate extremity. The invasion of Iran may he hard upon the Iranians, but not so nearly as tough as if Hitler had seized them by the throat.

Faced with the ultimate prospect of being devoured by the German monster we may well suspect Iran's protest to Britain and Russia was more perfunctory than sincere, something for the record to appease Hitler, if, later on, Hitler does smash that far east. From all accounts it appears that the Iranians are not putting up much of a battle. At stake, of course, are the huge resourcs in oil, which makes Iran the third largest producer in the world, the United States ranking first and Russia second. It would seem the height of folly to permit Germany to get Iran's oil resources and thus not only prolong the world war, but perhaps tip the scales toward a German vctory. The democratic principle of our government, the greatest good to the greatest number, applies here in world affairs.

Local Man Held For Forgery

LELAND H. WILLIAMS ADMITS CASHING $67 CHECK

Receiving the whole-hearted cooperation of the local police department, Secret Service Agent Walter Fisk last night proved again that "you can't get away with anything against the government."

Fisk and Deputy Sheriff Al Sommers arrested Leland H. Williams, 41, on a charge of cashing a government check which had been issued to Thomas McKenzie, a Mare Island ship yad employee.

Williams was taken to Sacramento today. He signed a written confession, Officer Al Sommers said.

Williams cashed the $67 check at the J. C. Penney Store in Grass Valley two weeks after he reportedly took it from a "community" mail box where he had been residing at Vallejo while seeking employment.

Williams said he kept the check in his pocket until after he returned to Nevada County. He cashed the check on August 2nd.

He told the officers he was drunk at the time he took the envelope containing the check and was drunk when he cashed it.

The arrest was made by Fisk and Sommers while Williams was driving down Sacramento Street.

Williams came to Nevada City more than a year ago. He has a wife and 12 year old daughter. Officers said he had served a term in Nevada State Penitentiary at Carson City.

"Playing War Fun," Writes John Sbaffi From Washington

"Playing war has been some fun," commented Johnny Sbaffi, National Guard volunteer from this city, who is on maneuvers in Washington, in a letter to a friend here.

"This being new country to me has made it rather interesting because we are on the move constantly," wrote Sbaffi."

The soldiers expect to return to their base at San Luis Obispo around September 3rd.

Preceeding the dinner at 2 o'clock the peace officers will meet at their pistol range for target practice.

NEVADA CITY IS LOCALE FOR KANSAS CITY STAR DOG STORY

Nevada City was the locale of a dog story which recently appeared in the Kansas City Star.

A clipping of the story was sent to H. F. Sofge, local chamber of commerce secretary, by a boyhood friend, Oscar L. Cowan, of Iola, Kansas.

The story which appeared in the Star follows:

"Harry Goudge of Sacramento drove to Nevada City, fifty eight miles away, and parked his car. After attending to some personal business he returned to the machine. Much to his surprise he found a dog sitting in the front seat.

Two yeas before, when Goudge was ill in a hospital, his dog, Skipper, had disappeared. It was this same Skipper that Goudge found in his car this day in Nevada City. Where the dog had been during the last two years was a mystery. But stranger still is how the dog happened to find his master's car in a strange city, and who opened the door, allowing the dog to get in.

It's an established fact that dogs have keen memories for familiar scents. Chances are that Skipper was passing Goudge's car when he noticed an odor he recognized —that of his former master. Perhaps a passerby was attracted by the dog's actions of sudden joy and understood that the animal wanted to get in the car, so opened the door for him."

Nevada City-Grass Valley Will Unite On Program To Benefit Entire Nevada Co.

"TAKING THE BULL BY THE HORNS," A NEVADA CITY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COMMITTEE LAST NIGHT STARTED THE MACHINERY GOING ON PLANS TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE INCREASE IN POPULATION AND BUSINESS EXPECTED TO ACCRUE FROM THE ESTABLISHING OF THE $25,000,000 ARMY CANTONMENT IN WESTERN NEVADA AND EASTERN YUBA COUNTIES.

The local committee, concurring in the belief of the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce that the task is too large for one community to handle individually, decided to cooperate with Grass Valley on a county wide setup. Truckee will be invited to participate.

The committee from the local chamber, the Grass Valley chamber committee and Truckee businessmen will meet tomorrow night at the National Hotel here to formulate a program to follow.

At the meeting all suggestions will be discussed and a program for immediate action will be adopted.

Jack Kaufman, secretary of the Marysville Chamber of Commerce, was present at the chamber of commerce committee meeting here last night at the invitation of President Guerdon Ellis.

Kaufman gave much interesting information on the proposed cantonment. His data enlightened the committee on many points and will no doubt serve the committee in good stead in the future.

Kaufman said Marysville can not begin to handle the business expected to develop from the cantonment erection. He said at the present time, when actual work has not yet started, all houses have been filled in Marysville and Yuba City.

Kaufman urged an immediate housing survey to determine the number and types of places for rent in this community and vicinity. He stated the Marysville chamber would be glad to dispense housing information from this district.

Kaufman urged against "ridiculously" high rent. He said some cities in vicinities of cantonments got "in bad" with army officers and personnel because of a policy of taking advantage of them by boosting rents beyond reason.

The retention of the historic atmosphere of the community was urged by Kaufman.

"You have something to sell here," he said. "And by a little promotion you should be able to sell it. Keep your originality. Stress your advantages, living conditions, climate, your forests and your snow sports but by all means retain every semblance of the atmosphere of '49."

It is the belief of the local committee that the army officers for the cantonment will much rather live and station their families in Nevada City and Grass Valley than live in the valley cities.

The army officers, numbering several thousand, will live outside the cantonment. Of course, the soldiers will live in barracks on the cantonment but will have Saturdays and Sundays off and possibly be given other leaves.

The committee beelieves it is its duty to attempt to interest the army officers to reside in this vicinity and to have the soldiers come to Nevada County for their ntertainment when on leave.

One object of the committee will be to obtain USO funds for the entertaining of the soldiers in Nevada City and Grass Valley.

No definite boundary for the cantonment has been as yet set but it is believed it will include about four miles of Nevada County in the Spenceville and Indian Springs area.

It appears certain one outlet from the cantonment will be at Smartville. Kaufman said there will probably be an artillery range at the present location of Spenceville and it is doubtful whether there will be an outlet gate there.

Citizens of Nevada City and Grass Valley appear to be unanimously in favor of the cantonment despite the action of the board of supervisors here this week protesting any part of the camp being included in Nevada County.

The Nevada City Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Monday night adopted a resolution favoring the cantonment. The Grass Valley Chamber acted likewise.

The committee appointed by the local chamber to promote the city's resources for cantonment business is composed of Robert Tamblyn, chairman, A. C. Presley, Lambert Thomas, H. E Kjorlie, Robert Paine, U. S. N Johnson, Richard Worth, H. M. Leete, Fred Garrison and Tom Arden.

The Grass Valley committee is composed of Eben Smart, Stuart Chalmers, Ray Pengelly, Del Powell and Jack Stennett.

When both committees meet as guests of Dick Worth tomorrow night a chairman for both groups will be selected.

The supervisors resolution in protest to the cantonment is as follows:

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, it has come to the knowledge of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Nevada, State of California, that the United States Army has or is about to, establish a cantonment in Nevada and Yuba Counties, State of California; and

WHEREAS, said cantonment will require about eight thousand acres of land in Nevada County; that said eight thousand acres of land are now yielding and paying taxes to the County of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, said families have in most cases resided on said land for a great many years and moving therefrom would cause a serious economic dislocation in their lives and in the economy of Nevada County; and

WHEREAS, said land is a part of the Nevada Irrigation District, a public corporation organized under the Irrigation Laws of the State of Califonia, and said land pays taxes to the said Nevada Irrigation District and the taking of land from the assessment rolls of the said Nevada Irrigation Dsitrict would cause a serious loss to the said Nevada Irrigation District; and

WHEREAS, the said cantonment would serve no purpose at its location that could not be achieved as well at another location,

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Nevada, State of California, that they are opposed to the location of said cantonment in Nevada County, California.

Jewelry Robbery Suspect Arrested For Reno Police

Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen and Undersheriff William D. Woods, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Ben Parks of Reno, Nev., went to the Alaska Mine near Pike City Tuseday and took Tom Turner alias Tom Ward, into custody for questioning in connection with a recent $10,000 jewelry robber at Lake Tahoe on the Nevada side.

Turner was not booked here. He was taken direct to Reno by Deputy Parks.

It is understood here Turner has served time in federal penitentiaries.

The local officers report Turner refused to talk outside of denying his participation in the jewel burglary.

DOVE SEASON OPENS SEPT. 1

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Dove shooting in California will be from September 1 to October 12, inclusive in all sections of the state excepting Imperial County where the season will be September 20 to October 12. This was the recommendation the Fish and Game Commission made to Kenneth Fulton, Director of Natural Resources and is in accordance with the regulations of the federal authorities. Shooting time will be from sunrise to sunset and the bag limit is 12 per day and 12 in possession.

Fish and game wardens of the California State Division of Fish and Game report that doves are generally more scarce this year than years previous. At least they are well scattered since there is an abundance of water and it is not necessary for the dove to concentrate at water holes. The report from San Diego county is that doves are plentiful, especially in San Felipe and Mason Valleys. There is a good growth of dove weed in the valleys and the birds seem in fine condition.

PREDICTS POOR DOVE HUNTING

Poor hunting is predicted for the opening of the dove season here Monday.

Game Warden Earl Hiscox has issued awarning to local hunters that plugs are necessary for pump and automatic shotguns. A maximum three shots can be fired in succession.

The dove limit is twelve per day. Hunting is from sunrise to sunset.

Local hunters get a break opening day, inasmuch as it falls on a holiday.

EDITORIAL SYMPOSIUM

By J. F. McLAUGHLIN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Official statements concerning the Roosevelt-Churchill precedent shattering meeting at sea were viewed by many California editors as "smoke screens."

The real import of the discussions, it was believed, will be revealed only by future activities in Britain and America.

The program outlined, — peace, freedom and disarmament—is, according to the Turlock Journal, "much to be desired, no doubt! But how to be achieved? Certainly not by mere declaration, nor even by conquest of the foe in battle. This seems to be where we came in, two decades and some years ago. The significance of the conference between Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt will become apparent with the passage of time, when the acts of the British and American governments give substance to the more shadowy words which have gone before'."

"The eight point declaration of aims," notes the Stockton Record, "is scornfully referred to in Axis quarters as a recreation of the Wilsonia 14 points. Mr. Roosevelt probably realized that this would happen. Also, we believe he must have mindful of the defeats which the world war congress dealt to the earlier war president. But isn't Mr. Roosevelt too shrewd as a leader and politician to make unwarranted commitments? Isn't he too wise to usurp congressional powers, promise things he cannot deliver, and go down the trail to the defeat dealt Woodrow Wilson?"

"The meeting itself was drama at its best," said the Santa Barbara News-Press. "By its very occurrence, this meeting on the high seas portrayed to the world that the seas still belong to Britain and the United States. It is on the seas that final victory will be won, and the impertinence of arranging and holding a meeting, where Hitler had boasted no British ship was safe, has a psychological effect which is making itself felt around the world. It was like daring Hitler to do his worst."

Belief that the meeting "reduced the slim margin between our present position of nonbelligerency and one of actual participation in hostilities," was expressed by the Monterey Penisula Herald, "although we have long since passed the point where such distinctions have much more than academic significance. But when the heads of two great nations, one of which is engaged in a life and death struggle, meet in secret conference on matters pertaining to that struggle, it becomes evident that an actual alliance exists, defacto, if not de jure."

"In all probability," argues the Ontario Daily Report, "more plans were made by the high ranking army and navy officials participating in this historical conference than have been announced. Why can't we be told of these plans? The American people need not be treated as children. We are hungry for the truth—our unity in this world crisis depends on our complete understanding of the situation."

"What is of supreme consequence," agrees the Vallejo Times Herald, " is not what they said in the joint declaration but what they did not say. We may be sure that the two leaders of the only remaining democracies on earth talked with maps—as well as with ideals. And the fact that it was considered wise to tell the public of the decision on ideals—and not the decisions over the maps—is only further proof of how breathlessly close we are to an actual shooting war—in both oceans. The emergency is so great that anything but war time secrecy on those decisions, particularly as they effect America, would be folly of the stupidest kind."

The first thing to do, points out the Oroville Mercury Register. "is to win the war, and that is what the two talked most about. The results of the conference, in which many experts took part, will be far-reaching. No one in the world can doubt that it means a better unification of effort—more teamwork. Hitler will take warning that there will be no possibility of a separate peace with Britain—that he must win this war very soon or not at all. Russia will be encouraged to hold out, for the same reason."

FUNDS POUR INTO STATE: TAX CUT RECCOMMENDED

By CLEM WHITAKER

In the language of the streets, California—we mean California State government—is simply rolling in dough.

The sheckels are piling up so fast that State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson needs a new vault just to put them away for safe keeping.

And State Controller Harry Riley, who used to worry about deficits, is now laying awake nights wondering what in the hell to do with the money.

It's colossal; it's terrific; it's bigger and better than anything Hollywood ever turned out in one of its more magnificent moments. Where they used to get dimes, they now get dollars. And even Governor Olson, who bitterly opposed the legislature's attempt to reduce taxes, is now a firm believer in Santa Claus.

Fred E. Stewart, the gray-thatched impresario of the State Board of Equalization, whose board collects most of the dough, admits that the state will shortly be embarrassed with riches, unless something is done about it, but Fred, as usual has a solution.

Back in 1933, when California was faced with a threatened tax strike because taxes on real property were heavier than taxpayers could bear, Fred stepped into the breech with the Stewart-Riley Tax Relief Plan, which saved many home owners, farmers and other common property taxpayers from bankruptcy.

Today, says Mr. Stewart, the problem is different, but the solution is much the same. Then, one group of taxpayers was being discriminated against, while a larger group was being favored. The problem was equalization. Now, he asserts, all taxpayers (due to the national defense program) are carrying an exceedingly heavy burden, and the state should make liberal tax reductions to compensate, at least in part, for the heavier federal load.

"The state sales tax alone", reports Mr. Stewart, "is now producing around $10,000,000 a month, where a year ago it was bringing in only about $8,500,000. Due to national defense spending, other state taxes are booming in proportion. But this of course, is a superficial boom. We pay it out there and it comes in here. It's that kind of a story.

"There's only one intelligent thing to do. State taxes should be cut—and cut drastically—as an offset to the increase in federal taxes. Our state deficit should be paid off, in full, by the end of the current fiscal year. Before the year ends, the legislature should be called into special session—and state taxes should be cut at least $40,000,000 a biennium.

To this writer, that sounds like common sense. Yes, Mr. Stewart, we think you have something!

The course in library practice will be offered under the direction of Mrs. Elma Clark Young, a trained librarian, added to the faculty of Placer Junior College this year on the recommendation of Dr. Ernest E. Oertel, district superintendent.

The contemplated jurisprudence course is scheduled to be given by Jerry Wallace, J. D. University of California. Wallace is a practicing attoney and a writer of considerable prominence in northern California.

The course in military tactics will be taught by Colonel John M. True, U. S. A. retired, who will also supervise the cadet military drill.

The board of trustees governing Placer Junior College has voted funds to purchase uniforms for all junior college students participating in the military drill. Students will receive one half credit per semester for military drill and one credit per semester for the course in military tactics. Students may substitute military drill for physical education if they desire.

RANGER SNIDER REPORTS FINE COOPERATION IN QUELLING FIRES

"We are really receiving fine cooperation from the public users of the Tahoe National Forest these days when one traveler through the forest put out a fire that another tourist starts," tates District Ranger H. I. Snider at Truckee. This happened twice the past week, in fact within two days. Last Thursday E. J. Goyette, San Leandro, and H. I. Christie, San Francisco, found a fire smoldering in an old rotten log skidway while hiking one mile north of Tahoe Vista, Lake Tahoe area, and smothered it with dirt they scooped up with their hands. They then returned to Sandy Beach and reported it to the forest service at Truckee. This fire, which had apparently been started by a careless horseback rider smoking in a closed area, was put out without causing any damage, although it had the possibility of "going places" states Snider.

The followig day, Charles Johnson, caretaker at Frog Lake, reported finding a campfire that had spread to a rotten log near Castle Peak, 12 miles northwest of Truckee. He found an old tin can and proceeded to check the fire by carrying water from a nearby pond. An inspection of the area by Fire Guard Curran revealed that Johnston had done a thorough job.

"We are now in the driest part of the fire season," states Snider, "and with care exercised by tourists and hikers coupled with cooperation as given by the above described forest users, it wil be a great help in preserving 99.9 per cent of our recreation area in this locality again this year as we have the past several years."

LOCAL ELKS WILL PLAY FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Tonight the Nevada City Elks will oppose the G. V. Hardware for the county title in softball. The N. C. Elks won their league winning 10 and losing 3 for the season. Ike Hoskins did the hurling and Ainsley Fouyer did the receiving with occasional changes.

Tonight the Elks will be without the services of Bill Cornelius, Walter Mullis and Ainsley Fouyer. The absence of these three players will be felt.

Fans are asked to turn out to root for the Elks who have brought Nevada City, at last, something to look forward to in the way of a champion ship in sports. This will be the Grass Valley Hardware 3rd year in a row that they have won their league, and have went on to win the championship. They are very eager, for more reasons than one, to make it two straight over the Confident Elks.

The probable starting line up for the Elks will be either Murray or Childers catch; Hoskins, pitch; Stephens 1b. Bill Mullis, 2nd base; Tamblyn ss; Childers 3d; Joyal, roving field; Keene, lf; Haddy, cf; and Sommerville rf. Stevens will do the hurling for the Hardware with either Faulkner or Polglaze doing the receiving.

Manager "Goose Power House" Plglaze asks the Nevada City Elks players to be on the diamond at 6:45 tonght. The game will be played at Memorial Park.

The Christian Science Society of Nevada City holds service at 114 Boulder Street every Sunday at 11 a. m. Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. A testimonial meeting is held the first Wdnesday of each month at 8 p. m.

"I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth." These words from Romans comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday in the Christian Science Church.

DRAFT BOARDS WILL HAVE REEMPLOYMENT COMMITTEEMEN

In a far reaching move to place discharged draftees back into jobs in private industry, Brig. Gen. Joseph O. Donovan yesterday ordered the appointment of re-employment committeemen to be attached to each of the state's 284 draft boards.

The new committeemen the state director of selective service said, will act as liaison agents between the returning soldiers and employers.

It will be their task to get in touch with former employers of soldiers who are about to be released to see if their former jobs are still available; to transmit the records of returned soldiers, who have no jobs awaiting them, to the nearest state employment office, and to place the soldiers in contact with available jobs.

"California already has its plans for re-employment of its selectees well under way," Donovan said. "It is vital to the successful operation of the selective service system that the men who have answered the call of their country be protected in their legal right to re-employment in civilian occupations.

"It is not only a moral obligation of the selective service system to see that they are so protected but also it is a responsibility imposed by law.

Although the first of the soldiers nationally will be released next month, Donovan said, the first Californians probably will not be discharged until October. The re-employment committeemen may be members of local draft boards selected by the boards or a person especially appointed for the purpose.

In cases where the state employment office is unable to find a job for a returning soldier Donovan said, it will be the duty of the committeeman to seek local emploment opportunities through such channels as the chamber of commerce, boards of trade and national organizations such as the Rotary, Lions, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and others.

Under the selective service act, federal employes who were taken from their jobs for army service may return to them under the same circumstances as if they had been on a leave of absence.

Soldiers formerly employed by private concerns, under the act, also are to be restored to their former positions, "unless the employer's circumstances have so changed as to make it impossible or unreasonable to do so"
